They also have a main character in the book. It tells that Trident used to work with phantom Ryer, which is Colt's grandpa. They tell the characteristics of the phantom Ryer how both Trident and Colt's grandpa play a role. It tells that Trident used to work with a jetpack, a gas mask, and a black, purplish pants.

You might be convinced that this setting is taking place in the future. The fact that there is flying motorcycles and alien fighting leagues tells how the C.H.A.O.S. I did not say this in the plot, but they used a high tech concussion grenade during the battle, which could also give all the data back to Trident, they all try to think this book takes place in modern times because of all the modern characteristics we have now are in the book.

where he just thinks about the new things that he has to do. He wants to join the fight and help Colt or sit back. Unfortunately when grandpa McAlister has to decide if he wants to join the fight and help Colt or sit back. Unfortunately when grandpa McAlister makes the right choice and decides to become the phantom flyer one more time.

I think that one of the most important external conflicts is at the end in the ultimate faceoff, Aldrich vs. Colt. The fight put Colt in the hospital with a couple broken ribs. Another good external conflict was Colt vs. Trident. It was interesting to see Colt change all throughout the book until the end where he knows all he need to know.

Knowing to a new house also means moving to a new school, which could be pretty tough for Colt. Danielle walks Colt through the new, Altona life. In 1st period, Colt meets a girl named Lily, who he ends up starting at for a big chunk of the book. The comic explains that Lily has a different teachers and students. When they go to lunch, Oz and him to learn all about that call and get later, to get more information about the parents, Colt then tells Oz and Danielle to meet outside of his house, Colt decides to go and meet the man. His name was Nathan, much about it. As soon as the mind control inhibitors, murdered his parents because they knew he later got a text saying, "you're next. then came to kill Colt, but Colt got away on a flying motorcycle. He later got a text saying, "you're next."

Oz takes Colt and Danielle to an alien-fighting league to get information from a friend of Oz's named Brett. Danielle did some research and found out that Trident worked with the Nazis during WWII. Next, Colt went to Lily's party where they developed a better friendship. After the party, they all try to make a plan to go back into Trident Biotech's network. Danielle's grandmother sets a field trip for the school, which is where they can change the network password.

Colt and Oz set up a diversion so that Danielle could hack into the network and change the password. They came back to their own homes while Danielle did research on her computer. Colt later gets a call from Danielle saying that if he he be the phantom Ryer. That night, they had an enormous fight against guards, aliens, robots, and the leader of Trident Biotech, Aldrich Koenig. Even the phantom Ryer himself joined the fight. At the end, they rescued Danielle and beat Aldrich.

Colt is a fifteen-year-old teenager that is a surfer. He has blonde, sandy hair and is from San Francisco. In the book, Colt is described to wear sandals on a daily basis. Both of Colt's best friends are Oz and Danielle.

Oz is probably Colt's best friend mostly because they are always hanging out. Oz is about the same age as Colt. His dad is the leader of the alien agency, C.H.A.O.S. In the book, if Colt's wants to go to the comic store he is going to take Oz because he knows all about it.

If anyone is the brains in the group, it is probably Danielle. She is the one that does most of the research on Trident Industries. Danielle is the same age as Oz and Colt. If it weren't for Danielle, I don't think that the three would be here today.

Aldrich is the main bad guy in this book. He is the one that led the Nazis during WWII and Trident now. He seems like a nice person at first, but wants you get to know the true Aldrich, changes by a lot. During the fight between Aldrich and Colt, Aldrich shows his true identity, a bloodthirsty alien.
